

MEET MIKE VENY!!!!

People who struggle with mental health challenges are singing the praises of professional drummer and mental health advocate, Mike Veny. He's a sought after keynote speaker who consistently inspires audiences with his personal story and his 'Drumming Circle' Program.

Mike firmly believes that mental health challenges and people challenges go hand and hand. Once he came to that realization, he began to value relationships and works hard to constantly inform others about mental health challenges and to end stigma through his story and the drumming experience he shares.
